“ To the family of Issac We would first of all love to send our condolences Issac was close and spoke to my husband on a regular I would just see him every once and awhile but when I did he made it his business to greet and speak from the moment that I met Issac he's always been a hard worker and spoke very highly of his wife and kids .. I pray that the wife,kids ,family and friends find strength, peace and comfort as they go through this difficult time as this will not be an easy process Myself, My husband and friends at Walmart DC 7035 will continue to keep you all uplifted in prayer...Rest Well Issac you will be missed..🙏🕊️

“ I just want to start out by sending my Condolence to the family, another solider gone too soon, but god need him in his ranks too prepare for that great day. Ike was a great friend and mentor to me even though he wasn't in Tallahassee no more. We used to work at Walmart, many moons go. Ike taught and show me how too be courageous and brave not only in the work place, in life as well. I remember our one on one in basketball which he won because at the time I was tall little younger and not mature nor humble as he was at that time, but he was mature and experienced on the court which is why he won but that lesson he taught about being humble will live on in my memory and heart. So take your rest young king, you will be missed.

“ I would always start my messages out by saying Ikeeeeeeeeeee. Man I miss not being able to see when you're coming back to work or what I had to do to get you to shop on the shopclub. No more hearing you say umma get witcha. I miss your smile around the DC, take your rest friend. To the family, I send my deepest condolences. We miss you...your DC 7035 family. Signed Sand.
